Motorcyclist seriously injured in collision

A MOTORCYCLIST was seriously injured after a collision on a main road in Ormskirk.

The accident happened on St Helens Road at the junction with Scarth Hill Lane at 1.35pm on Tuesday, May 18 when a Suzuki GSF motorcycle was in a collision with a Ford Focus car.

The motorcyclist, a man in his 50s from Liverpool, was taken to hospital with serious leg and arm injuries.

The driver of the Focus, a man in his 70s, did not suffer any serious injuries.

Police are now appealing for any witnesses or anybody with dashcam or CCTV footage which could help with their investigation to come forward.

Sgt Laura Kendall, of Lancashire Police's Tactical Operations, said: "This collision has left a man with serious injuries and we need to establish exactly what has gone on."

"I would ask anybody with information or footage which could assist our enquiries to please get in touch."

Anyone with information is asked to email 4446@lancashire.police.uk or call 101, quoting log 0845 of May 18, 2021.

GPS THEFTS 'HUGE COST TO FARMERS'

Special rural police task force launched to deal with the rising problem of high-tech criminals

Report by Henry James

A SPECIAL rural task force has been set up by Lancashire Police to deal with the rising problem of rural crime which has had an impact on farmers in West Lancashire.

Thieves in West Lancashire are targeting farms in the area and stealing Global Positioning System (GPS) guidance systems on a regular basis, which are costing farmers thousands of pounds.

Not only is the technology expensive to replace, but the units also store vital farm data and are essential for modern day tractors and combines to work effectively.

When thieves targeted the Molyneux Kale Company on Asmall Lane in Scarisbrick on Monday, May 10, they also took the engine management system, meaning the tractor can no longer be driven.

As the tractor is an essential tool for the farm, Chris Molyneux, who owns the company, has been forced to rent another at a cost of £1,000 a week until his own is fixed.

Welcoming Lancashire Constabulary's formation of Chris Molyneux's farm was targeted by thieves.

special rural task force teams at Morecambe, Garstang, Ormskirk, Clitheroe and Waterfoot, the National Farmers' Union (NFU) says tackling GPS theft needs to be one of the new 20 officers' priorities.

NFU Lancashire County Chair Lisa Edwards who farms at Gore House Farm in Lydiate, has also been a victim of this crime. At a meeting on her farm on Monday, May 24, she met the new rural officers stationed at Ormskirk to raise this issue as a matter of importance.

In August 2020, Lisa had her GPS system stolen off the top of a combine that was locked away in a shed.

They took the dome from the top as well as the screen.

She's now advising fellow farmers in the county to tag and mark all of their equipment, make themselves known to the new rural task force and lock everything away at night – although sadly this does not always deter the thieves.

Lisa's combine was locked away in a shed, but they still managed to break in.

Lisa said: "We didn't dare take the dome off the top of the combine late at night in the dark due to health and safety concerns."

"It's very high and you'd need a ladder. That did not stop the thieves though. Our combine was out of action for two days and cost £8,500 to replace."

"I'd urge all farmers to lock everything away and in the first instance ask the new rural task force for one of their extremely helpful advice sheets."

"We also move equipment around the farm so the thieves can't accurately predict where it will be."

Chief Inspector Chris Hardy is leading the special rural task force team and told the Champion: "We have made significant investment to create the bespoke teams who

Former chairman of United takes on new role at Southport FC

Report by Henry James

FORMER chairman of Skelmersdale United Frank Hughes has been appointed as the secretary at Southport FC saying he believes the club is a "sleeping giant."

He is taking over the position at the National League North club from James Tedford who has been appointed as one of the management experts on the government's fan-led review of football.

Frank had followed in his father's footsteps by joining the board of directors at Skelmersdale United, starting out as director of football, before taking over as chairman.

During his time at the club he managed to raise more than £200,000 in sponsorship and also managed to secure a ground-share deal with Liverpool Ladies, which exceeded £100,000 during their partnership with the club.

During his eight-seasons at the club, Skelmersdale United secured promotion from the North West Counties to the Northern Premier League, and finished in the play-off positions on four occasions in the Northern Premier League North.

They reached the final on one occasion when they sadly lost to FC United in front of more than 3,500 people at Gigg Lane.

In his final season Skem were pipped at the post on goal difference by Chester.

He also negotiated the transfers of Georgie Donnelly and Sean McConville to Football League clubs, with an accumulative value in excess of £60,000. He also sold other player's on to higher levels, most notably Craig Noone who went on to play in the Premier League for Cardiff City, and also Aaron Turner, Karl Ledsham and Steve Akrigg who went on to play for Southport FC.

In his new post at Southport Mr Hughes says will aim to work with the community to encourage more people to watch the team.

Frank said: "I've always had a realistic approach to running a football club.

"Financial sustainability, identity, youth and patience have to form part of any mission statement at any football club.

"I will be focussing on all of those things, but I will also point to the assets that the club already has, such as a great manager in Liam Watson, the vastly improved facilities and its fantastic fan base, but most importantly the many volunteers that have helped make Southport the great club it is.

"Southport has a population of over 90,000 people and in many ways is a sleeping giant.

"I'm going to do my best to tap into the larger community and drag them down to watch a game or two – just like my dad once did to me."

Southport FC director, Ian Kyle said: "Frank is an ideal fit for Southport FC as he has a wealth of experience at this level and great local knowledge and we are all looking forward to working with him and extend a very warm welcome to the club."

Ormskirk town centre packed with visitors at the 2019 Motorfest

£80k grant will help fund 'fantastic cultural events' in historic town centre

Report by Henry James

FUNDING has been awarded to Ormskirk from Historic England's High Street Heritage Action Zones cultural programme which will allow the council to put on 'fantastic events in the historic town centre.'

Historic England has said Ormskirk has a rich and varied history and this proposal seeks to draw on that history by working with creative professionals who can connect with the community, bring heritage alive and animate the high street.

The £80,000 awarded will fund a programme of artist residencies and events on the high street. They will involve schools and the community to promote heritage, increase skills and creativity while providing health and well-being outcomes.

This programme of work will be overseen by a 'cultural consortia' made up of arts organisations and community groups in the area.

They will be planned to support cultural facilities, improving cultural networks whilst developing cultural volunteering opportunities.

The aim is to ensure long-term sustainability through volunteering and the development of income streams, so a cultural programme can be sustained beyond this programme of work.

Councillor Ian Moran, leader of West Lancashire Borough Council, said: "This funding will allow us to put on some fantastic events in the historic setting of Ormskirk town centre for everyone in the borough to enjoy.

"This initiative will help breathe life back into the heart of the town centre, while providing a chance for our communities to get creative and have some fun."

West Lancashire MP Rosie Cooper welcomed the initiative, saying: "This is great news for Ormskirk, its residents, and those who enjoy visiting the historic town centre.

"I look forward to seeing the money put to good use."

Labour retain control of council but other parties will have a role on committees

Report by Henry James

LABOUR will continue to lead West Lancashire Borough Council under a minority administration following an agreement thrashed out at a full council meeting last week but they are no longer involved in important committees.

The agreement was reached following the local election results earlier this month which resulted in Labour losing overall control of the council but remaining the largest single party ahead of the Conservatives and the Our West Lancashire (OWL) party.

Labour Councillor Ian Moran will remain as leader of the borough council but an alliance was forged between the Conservatives and Our West Lancashire, which sees them now able to chair important committees, which had been run by Labour.

OWL councillor Gordon Johnson was elected mayor, and if numbers are tied in a vote, the mayor has a casting vote.

The Executive Overview Scrutiny Committee is now chaired by OWL group member Cllr Adrian Owens. The committee is made up of five Labour councillors, four Tories and two OWL members.

The planning committee is now chaired by Conservative councillor David O'Toole.

Labour's plight was not helped as Labour councillor Ron Cooper was not at the meeting.

After this year's election results Cllr Moran commented: "The next 12 months and beyond are going to be focused on rebuilding and strengthening our communities and our businesses post Covid."

West Lancs Borough Council Leader Ian Moran

Councillor Owens commented: "Labour sought to carry on as if nothing had happened in the elections.

"They tried to dismiss the verdict of the voters – namely the loss of their majority.

"They attempted to take all the key positions. In neighbouring Labour councils in Chorley and Preston they offer Committee chairmanships on Scrutiny and Governance to opposition councillors.

"So, for Labour in West Lancashire to be so dismissive of local voters and try to maintain control of every committee was not acceptable. I'm pleased that instead we have committees which reflect the diverse make-up of the council and give a voice to all councillors."

Council wants to give hospital trusts 'Honorary Freedom of Borough status'

Report by Henry James

A MEETING of Sefton Council's Cabinet will discuss a proposal to grant Aintree and Liverpool University NHS Trust and Southport and Ormskirk NHS Trust the Honorary Freedom of the Borough.

A report to the cabinet proposes the council place on record its high appreciation of, and the debt of gratitude to the Trusts in light of their hard work and dedication during the 'devastation of the Covid 19 Pandemic'.

If agreed, the report will go forward to a future Full Council meeting and suggests organising a civic reception at an appropriate time for the two Trusts' officers who have, the report says, 'served Sefton Council and its residents tirelessly throughout the pandemic with hard work and dedication putting themselves at risk in ensuring the safety of others.'

Cllr Ian Maher, leader of Sefton Council said: "There can be no doubt that throughout the coronavirus pandemic, the staff of the Aintree and Liverpool University and Southport and Ormskirk NHS Trusts have worked tirelessly. They have selflessly put themselves in harm's way to protect the people of Sefton and West Lancs.

'It's an appropriate gesture to mark their steadfast service during the pandemic'

"These two organisations illustrate perfectly why the National Health Service is seen by most as the jewel in Britain's crown and it would seem appropriate to mark their steadfast service by conferring the Honorary Freedom of the Borough on them."

Conferring of the Freedom of the Borough upon an individual or service is the highest honour the council can bestow. It gives the receiving organisation 'the right, privilege, honour and distinction of marching through the streets of the Borough on all ceremonial occasions with colours flying, bands playing, drums beating and bayonets fixed'.

Previous organisation to have been granted Freedom of the Borough include RAF Woodvale, in 2011, and No. 238 (Sefton) Squadron, 156 Regiment, Royal Corps of Transport, in 1982.

Individuals who have had the honour bestowed upon them include Jamie Carragher, in 2004, and Donald "Ginger" McCain in 2006.

Scrolls of Honorary Freeman and organisations awarded Freedom of Entry to the Borough are displayed in the Mayor's Parlour at Bootle and Southport Town Halls. Honorary Freeman can also attend and take part in civic receptions and functions to which all Members of the Council are invited.

The costs of the scroll and reception for Aintree and Liverpool University NHS Trust and Southport and Ormskirk NHS Trust would be financed from the Mayoral Hospitality budget provision.

The Cabinet meeting takes place at 10am on Thursday, May 27 in The Ballroom at Bootle Town Hall.

Young members of the boxing club, and inset a tribute to Birch Green ABC founder Joe O'Brien.

Boxing club back open - and honours founder who died 40 years ago

Report by Henry James

BIRCH Green Amateur Boxing Club has reopened again after the coronavirus restrictions have been lifted and members this year are remembering their founder who died 40 years ago.

They are going to mark the achievements of Joe O'Brien, their founder and "great coach", by having a photo of Joe above the ring in his memory, so he can "watch over his gym and will always be with us."

Birch Green ABC was opened in the late seventies by Joe O'Brien and he ran the gym until he passed away on May 25, 1981.

Joe had produced many champions while the head coach of Birch Green and his death was described a "terrible loss" to the gym.

After Joe's death the club kept going through the work of assistant coach Reg Weightman until the club final closed in the early 1980s.

Colin Day, a former member of Birch Green ABC (now coach), and Mick Riley decided to re-open the boxing club, after it had been closed for more than 30 years.

Mr Day said: "The club had a bad start, after building up a team of boxers over a couple of years of the re-opening."

"We were the subject of an arson attack and had to close for nearly two years."

"The club was rebuilt through the hard work of coaching staff and help from the community, sadly we lost all our talented boxers to other boxing clubs in the surrounding area.

"However, Birch Green ABC again began to grow only to be hit by the pandemic, which again had a similar affect as the fire and we lost more boxers."

"During the pandemic we still had to pay our bills to pay without any income, but received a grant from the government. Our treasurer, Ian Paterson, worked hard for the grant. The money helped us immensely to pay bills, and buy some new equipment."

"We are now back up and ready to start over again and hopefully our troubles are behind us."

The club is open to youngsters and adults, and there is training for people from the age of nine up to adults.

There is training for nine to 14 year olds from 5pm to 6pm on a Monday and Wednesday and from 6pm till 7.30pm on a Monday and Wednesday there is training for people 14-year-olds until adults.

All coaches are first aid trained, have child safeguarding and protection training, and all have been DBS (Disclosure and Barring Service) checked.

The coaching staff are: Colin Day Snr; Kevin Bate-man; Karl Day; John Baxter; John Paul King; and Colin Day Jnr.

The newly painted club has new equipment with a new sign over the building supplied by Service Graphics and the roof is about to be repaired with the help of Myers Roofing.

Mr Day added: "Birch Green ABC would like to thank Myers Roofing and Service Graphics for their sponsorship."

"If there are any companies within the Skelmersdale area that would like to sponsor the club, please get in touch via our Facebook page."

Mukesh gets his second hole in one!

MOST golfers never record a hole in one throughout their time playing the sport, but a member at Hurlston Hall Golf Club in Scarisbrick has just scored his second.

Mukesh Hiranandani scored his second ace at Hurlston Hall Golf Club on Wednesday, May 12.

Mukesh, who has been a member for eight years had scored his first hole in one in June 2017 on the 12th hole (193 yards).

His recent achievement was on the second hole (156 yards) from the yellow tee.

He trialed a G425 Ping Wood, the ball landed just before the right side of the left bunker and curved to the right, then rolled into the hole.

Unsurprisingly his shot was met with a big cheer from him and his three playing partners.

Mukesh retrieves his ball from the second hole.

Ex-police officer takes up new beat as borough's Mayor

Report by Henry James*FORMER police officer Gordon Johnson has been appointed Mayor of West Lancashire.

Councillor Johnson, is an elected member for Derby ward for the Our West Lancashire party, and will represent the borough at civic events which are planned to start again once Covid-19 restrictions are safely lifted.

He said: "I am honoured to take up this position and looking forward to what I hope will be a busy Mayoral year promoting the great place we live in and getting to meet residents from across the whole of West Lancashire."

Councillor Johnson has lived in West Lancashire for more than 30 years and currently lives in Ormskirk with his wife Jackie and two children.

Having retired from the police in 2013, he worked as the designated safeguarding officer for Liverpool County Football Association until February 2021 when he took up a role as a member of the porter and logistics team working for Southport & Ormskirk NHS Trust based at their Ormskirk Hospital Site.

Having retired after 30 years service as a police officer in April 2013, Mr Johnson was recently able to play a role in local politics, having been prohibited from active involvement in politics by police regulations.

However, for more than 10 years of his police service he was an elected Federation representative acting on behalf of the 8,000 serving and many more retired officers in the force.

The appointed Deputy Mayor of West Lancashire is the Conservative Councillor for Aughton Park, Councillor Marilyn Westley.

How the wedding venue would have looked at the site of the disused Ring O' Bells pub, inset.

Plans for wedding venue on site of disused pub refused

Report by Henry James

PLANS for the demolition of the disused Ring O' Bells public house in Lathom to make way for a wedding venue in the Green Belt have been refused by West Lancashire Borough Council.

The wedding venue would have been situated to the north-west of Ring O' Bells Lane and north of the canal.

As part of the development a new U-shaped building would have been erected. It would have been set around a courtyard and would have been used as a wedding venue.

There would have also been a change of use of the surrounding land to be used in connection with the wedding venue.

Council officers had recommended the application be refused before last Thursday's planning committee meeting.

The environmental health officer had expressed concerns about this application and stated: "The use appears to be far more intense than it was previously, with much more potential for noise disturbance."

"Short term high level external noise is very likely, particularly late at night. It would cause an adverse effect on the sleep, health and amenity of neighbours. I therefore object to its approval on these grounds."

Lathom Parish Council welcomed the proposal for the redevelopment of the site although they pointed out, "there are a lot of issues relating to noise and traffic."

The council had also received a number of letters from residents. They welcomed "the regeneration of the site" but they considered the current proposal to be "inappropriate."

There was also concerns regarding traffic generation and highway safety.

Planning officers at West Lancashire Borough Council said the following about the development: "The proposed new building and the large areas of hardstanding are considered to be inappropriate development in the Green Belt."

"The development would cause an adverse impact on openness and result in encroachment into the Green Belt."

"The very special circumstances identified are not considered to outweigh the identified harm."

"It is considered there is significant potential for the proposed development to result in harm to residential amenity."

"There would also be harm to the visual amenity of the area, unjustified loss of a community facility and the submission fails to provide adequate information in regards to drainage and flood risk."

Police task force to tackle hi-tech rural crime

will work in dedicated shift patterns. The teams will engage with the community to find out what the issues are and then will deal with them."

PC Sean Dalby added: "Being part of this dedicated team means I'll no longer be pulled away from rural issues to deal with domestics and shop lifting."

"All of my time can now be spent exclusively tackling rural crime."

"We have real issues with scrambler bikes and fly tipping. As a lover of the countryside who is never happier than when I'm with my dogs in the middle of nowhere, these are crimes which really get under my skin."

"I'll do all I can to stop them."

All aboard! West Lancashire Light Railway has reopened

WEST Lancashire Light Railway reopened to the public last weekend and it will now be open every Sunday until the end of October.

For the first time, the attraction at Hesketh Bank will also be open on Wednesdays and Thursdays this year during the June and October half-term holidays.

All appropriate Covid precautions will be in force. Visitors will be asked to sign-in on arrival, and to wear face masks on the train, unless exempt. They will ask everyone to practise social distancing and to make use of the hand sanitiser stations provided.

Trains will run every half-hour, to allow time for sanitising in-between.

Each group of visitors will be assigned their own compartment - but people can have as many rides as they like.

Visitors can buy standard-fare tickets at the shop window or go online at westlancsrailway.org to buy discounted Advance Anyway tickets. Entrance and parking is free.

The shop will be open, with up to three visitors inside at any one time, with masks. Payment by card is preferred, but cash is accepted.

Their new cafe 'The Waiting Room', will be open, with table service in the open air and under a canopy.

A spokesperson for West Lancashire Light Railway said: "Like many attractions, we have been waiting patiently for the time when we are able to open up again."

"The time has now arrived - we can't wait to meet friends old and new and to share our love of heritage railways."

Property used for 'cuckooing' by drug gangs raided

Police informed by community that owner of property was vulnerable and it was being used by criminals for dealing

Report by Henry James

A HOUSE in Skelmersdale was raided by police following intelligence from the community that its owner was vulnerable and his home was being used by criminal drug dealers.

Skelmersdale Police neighbourhood and target teams have executed a warrant on Windrows, Skelmersdale under the Misuse of Drugs Act, as part of Operation Hera.

A 47-year-old man was questioned and was found to be vulnerable, and his property suspected of being used by criminals to deal drugs.

In what is known as 'cuckooing' people may offer free or cheap drugs in return for using properties to meet other drug dealers or keep their stash there.

In addition to evidence of drug abuse found in the property, police identified electricity was also being tampered with, causing a fire risk.

A spokesperson for Skelmersdale Police said: "Contrary to popular belief, drug dealing doesn't mean a glamorous lifestyle; vulnerable people may be verbally or physically threatened if they do not allow dealers access to their property.

"If drugs are found at your home, there is a risk you will end up being interviewed and/or arrested and charged for your alleged involvement.

"You could lose access to benefits or be evicted by your housing provider. Your property could also be a subject to a closure order, which means no one would be allowed entry for up to six months."

Shoe firm Hotter to be floated on Stock Exchange this year

‘We have successfully remodelled the business for further growth’ says boss

Report by Henry James

FOOTWEAR company Hotter Shoes, based in Skelmersdale, is to be floated on the stock exchange later this year.

Hotter Shoes chief executive Ian Watson has stated they are on course to sell the business by auction “at some point this year.”

Speaking to Lancashire Business View, magazine he said the last two years had been “challenging” for the business that sells more than 1.3million pairs of shoes a year and currently employs around 500 people.

Hotter, the UK’s biggest shoe manufacturer, closed 59 stores and axed hundreds of jobs in a restructuring last year, as part of a stated refocusing on the online retail model.

The firm has seen a big leap in online sales. At the end of last year it was reported that the current owners of Hotter, Electra Private Equity, had employed investment bank Stifel to put the business up for auction.

Ian Watson told Lancashire Business View: “We are still on course to sell the business at some point this year. We’re getting it in good shape for that auction to take place.

“We have successfully remodelled the business for further growth in terms of sales and profitability.”

Hotter chief executive Ian Watson.

He said he is confident the company will continue to make great strides on its journey towards new owners and a bright digital future.

He added: “We’ve now taken the tech and put it into an app we’ve developed.

“Not only will you be able to size your feet from the comfort of your own home. It gives you a product recommendation on the back of it.

“We’re investing in augmented reality to actually show the product and what it looks like on your foot using your iPhone or android.

It’s time to move on.

Martin Mere welcomes Inca Terns to the collection

WWT Martin Mere Wetland Centre have welcomed a new species to our collection this week with the arrival of 12 Inca Terns.

This uniquely plumaged bird breeds on the coasts of Peru and Chile and is native to the same region of South America as the ancient Inca Empire, from which they get their name.

It is a large tern, approximately 40 cm long and the sexes are similar, both sporting a unique Salvador Dali moustache and striking red-orange beak and feet. The length of a bird's moustache can be a signal of reproductive health and performance.

Although it is a type of tern, it is an unusual bird and scientists have put it in its own genus under the tern and gull family.

The Inca tern breeds on rocky cliffs, nesting in a hollow, or burrow, or sometimes the old nest of a Humboldt Penguin. It lays one or two eggs, which are incubated for about 4 weeks, and the chicks leave the nest 7-8 weeks after hatching. Our eagle-eyed visitors will notice that one of the birds isn't quite as brightly coloured as the others and this is a juvenile bird that is only a year old.

The terns feed primarily on small fish, such as anchovies. The species spots its prey from the air, diving into the water to grab meals with its pointed beak. It's population in the wild is estimated to be around 150,000 but this represents a population decline over the last fifty years, with the principal factors for the drop in numbers being overfishing and ocean pollution.

The Inca Terns can be seen in our WOW aviary and love to fly around giving calls that sound like a mewling cat. We think they will become a big favourite of our visitors.

Book your tickets today to come and see this amazing new bird by searching online for WWT Martin Mere.

Best foot forwards! Brothers raise funds for families with hike

By Henry James

SAMUEL and Joseph Hurst aged five and seven from Up Holland raised £50 for vulnerable families overseas by walking six miles together.

During the month of Lent the two brothers took part in national fundraising campaign Walk for Water, run by international development charity CAFOD.

The boys embarked on this impressive challenge after watching a video about a young Ethiopian man named Abdella, who walks up to 10 hours each day to fetch water for his family.

Sarah Hurst, Samuel and Joseph's mother is delighted at her sons' fundraiser and says how lovely it is that they took action to help others in need.

She said: "I'm so proud of my sons and what they've been able to raise for the Walk for Water challenge. We are hoping to fundraise again and would like to open up the sponsorship to the rest of the parish."

Congratulating Samuel and Joseph's amazing achievement, the family's local Parish Priest, Fr Philip Kehoe added: "Samuel and Joseph inspire other children to think about others and the most vulnerable communities of our world."

"All the parishioners gave them a rousing clap to show their appreciation for all they had done."

"Well done to Joseph and Samuel, keep up the good work."

CAFOD's local representative for the Lancashire area, Siobhan Farnell concluded: "Samuel and Joseph's story inspires me as it demonstrates how we each can do something to bring about change for the better."

"St Teresa's Parish in Up Holland have been wonderful supporters of CAFOD for many years and it is fabulous to see that support being continued by some of the youngest parishioners.

Samuel and Joseph Hurst

"Joseph and Samuel's support along with the other individuals who have walked and raised funds across the whole of England and Wales will really make a difference to the lives of our sisters and brothers overseas."

"It's inspiring to hear how they were motivated to put their faith into action after watching the video of Abdella and his daily walk for water."

"On behalf of CAFOD and our partners overseas we thank all who support us."

Delivered by international development charity CAFOD (Catholic Agency for Overseas Development) the Walk for Water challenge encouraged people to walk, run, dance or hop to raise money for communities around the world that don't have access to clean, fresh water.

'Great British Railways' get cautious welcome from rail user group

Report by Henry James

LOCAL rail user group, Ormskirk, Preston and Southport Travellers' Association, have given a cautious welcome to a government plan which aims to "prioritise passengers and freight."

The Williams-Shapps Plan for Rail was published on May 20 and it sees a new public body set up Great British Railways (GBR), which will integrate the railways, owning the infrastructure, collecting fare revenues, running and planning the network, and setting most fares and timetables.

The government has promised that GBR will "simplify the current mass of confusing tickets with new flexible season tickets and a significant roll-out of more convenient Pay As You Go, contactless and digital ticketing on smartphones."

A new GBR website will sell tickets and a single compensation system for operators in England will provide a simple system for passengers to access information and apply for refunds.

The government added, "there will remain a substantial and often greater role for the private sector."

The Community Rail Network, has welcomed the publication of the Williams-Shapps Plan for Rail, especially its commitments to make the railways more responsive to communities.

Alan Fantom, from the Ormskirk, Preston and Southport Travellers' Association (OPSTA), told the Champion: "It reads like it is a development of good practice and is welcomed. For example Northern Trains would already consult with OPSTA and similar groups over timetable changes and collaboratively we have seen some improvements brought in.

"While the words are good, however, we need to see the action and there are grounds for scepticism – why does it appear that simultaneous to this announcement train operators have been instructed to reduce their services to the base Department for Transport specification and lose those gains?"

"OPSTA expects and will seek involvement just as we engage with the rail sector now.

"We have around 300 members and pride ourselves for basing what we do and campaign for on evidence. This is recognised in the rail sector and we have ongoing dialogue and already work with the train operator (Northern Trains Ltd), local transport authorities (Lancs County Council, City Region Combined Authority and Transport for Greater Manchester, and our local authorities.

"It is the passenger and destination data that we have collected and analysed that has underpinned the robust response by the MPs for Southport and West Lancs, local authorities and business groups to the renewed threat to our Southport Manchester Piccadilly service.

"With our long held objective to see the Burscough Curves re-opened and previous work on this, it was pleasing to be asked to prepare the application for funding from the Dept. for Transport for a business case on behalf of Lancashire County Council and four sponsoring MPs.

"These are examples of how a rail user group can make telling and important contributions bringing in an understanding of local travel requirements and hence why OPSTA is keen to be involved."

Double hit! Brothers are both recruited to Skem firm's development team

By Henry James

SKELMERSDALE company CoreRFID has recruited brothers Matt and Tim Clancy to its software development team.

The brothers from Leigh, Greater Manchester, both graduated from the same computer software engineering course at Bolton University this year. Matt was initially recruited and recommended his brother Tim, who also accepted an offer to immediately join the team.

The asset management software firm, which counts Ocado, Vp Hire Station and Weir Minerals among its clients, uses Radio Frequency Identification (RFID) technology for a diverse range of applications, from tracking assets for industrial rental firms to pinpointing parts through complex manufacturing processes and recording materials arriving and products leaving warehouses.

CoreRFID is also seen as a leader in inspection and reporting software in the UK and Republic of Ireland for the lifting and cranes industry using its CheckedOK solution.

Its IDXpert system based on CheckedOK, and for users outside the British Isles, has seen taken-up in Spain, Italy, Australia and the USA in the past year.

Matt Clancy said: "It's a great opportunity to be part of a specialist team which helps so many businesses streamline and improve processes."

CoreRFID's technical director Munzi Ali responded: "Matt and Tim's university training is about practical problem solving, which is exactly what we want as each of our clients receive tailored solutions to meet their business needs."

Nursery looking for past pupils to help celebrate milestone 75th birthday!

MOORGATE Nursery School in Ormskirk has a special celebration this year – they are 75 years old.

Staff at the school need residents' help. They are asking people if they, or anyone they knew, came to Moorgate as a child (or staff member). They want to spread the word about their birthday.

A spokesperson for the school said: "We are looking to create a special memory board and would love to add your name, and the year you attended Moorgate, onto the board at the front of the Nursery, to celebrate the thousands who have attended over the years.

"If you would like us to add your details, email bursar@moorgate.lancs.sch.uk, or write to Moorgate Nursery School, Moorgate, Ormskirk, L39 4RY.

"If you have any photographs you would like to share from when you came to Moorgate, please send them to us as we'd love to see how our Nursery used to look and make a special memory book to show the children. Please send by June 11."

Our community really does care!

We would like to say 'thank you' to the staff at Tesco in Burscough and members of the community who helped to support paramedics in delivering lifesaving care to our daughter on Wednesday, May 12.

Staff and members of the public diverted traffic, assisted our daughter's partner, and called 999.

All of which resulted in our daughter receiving the care she needed.

Glue traps are indiscriminate

For the safety of the public and other none targeted species, can I point out the following.

Glue traps are recommended for indoor use only to trap vermin.

Unfortunately the traps are not just being used indoors and do not discriminate as to what animals they trap.

The traps are lethal to wildlife and if you find a none-targeted species on one, the following is recommended by one manufacturer in a reply to me.

This is important information as it concerns humans as well as wildlife.

The best products to use to free anyone or any animal from the glue traps are the following: Olive oil, sunflower oil, rapeseed oil, sesame oil, avocado oil, vegetable oil or coconut oil.

Tennis club will maintain the area's natural habitats

Re: The report in the Champion about the proposed plans by Aughton Lawn Tennis Club.

I have been a member of the club since 1974 and more recently was president and it was during my tenure that members voted to convert the grass courts to an all-weather surface.

Members and Lancashire county players have enjoyed playing on them over the years but the number of days per year when they have been playable has become fewer, and the time has come to convert them.

The original plan would have installed the new courts away from the trees and avoided any impact on them but in so doing, although the courts themselves would be full size, the space between and around them, would not comply with the present guidelines issued to clubs by the Lawn Tennis Association.

The article stated that we are set on destroying the tree barrier along the footpath by cutting down two sycamore trees and a holly.

An independent report from an arboreaculturist graded the sycamores as in poor condition but still with up to eight years of life and the holly to be good with 10+ years.

With the maples already planted by the club and more to be planted in the future, in eight years time they will be more mature and ready to replace the sycamores at that stage, so keeping a continuous screen.

It is vital to maintain the important natural habitat for a variety of small animals, birds etc that exists beside the club.

When visitors and teams from other clubs come through our gate they are taken aback by the beautiful setting of the club and are very envious.

It has only got better as it has matured over the almost 130 years of its existence.

They will have entered through a wooden gate in keeping with the surrounding conservation area of Granville Park.

Aughton Tennis Club.

However LTA guidelines state that we must install a metal gate with wire mesh, of the sort more usually used to protect industrial sites, so members of the public can use our courts.

This would be controlled by the LTA with an annual payment from the club.

There is huge opposition to this within the club as firstly, it nullifies the justification for needing new courts if they are then not available at times for paid up members.

In fact there is an existing provision already for the public to play just round the corner in Winifred Lane along with a car park.

Secondly, It would be a real eyesore in such a pretty residential area, where car parking is already restricted but where the members hopefully respect our neighbours.

We are very keen for approval to be granted for the conversion of the courts and for the floodlights but without the restrictions imposed by the LTA.

Gaby Naylor, Aughton.

Jordan was such a shining light to us all

Like many other readers we are all pleased to see the Champion back, you were missed.

There are so many issues we could all write to you about but I would like to say how touched and distressed I was after hearing how nine-year-old Jordan Banks from Blackpool was killed by lightning recently.

It appears in his short life he had achieved so much for such a young boy.

He had run miles for mental health care after his uncle lost his life after struggles with mental illness, and put chocolates on police cars as a thank you for all their hard work.

He is/was a shining light to us all to remember to show kindness and care wherever we can as we go forward into our daily lives.

Best doggy pals in search of new home together?

It will be heartbreaking if we have to separate pair, say animal sanctuary staff

TWO best doggy pals are in need of a new forever home where they can carry on living together.

Alice and Daisy, have been a pair for the last eight years, but were recently handed in to the team at Freshfields Animal Rescue after their owner suffered a stroke and can no longer care for them.

Freshfields hope they can be kept together once a new home is found for them.

Vikki Ferguson, kennels worker at the sanctuary in Ince Blundell said: "Daisy is a German Pointer Cross, and although she is almost 10 years old, she still is as playful and affectionate as a puppy! She is still an active girl and can be very strong on her walks. She loves to play ball almost as much as she loves her best friend Alice.

"Alice is a Labrador Cross and she's eight years old. She loves children and doesn't like loud noises out on her walks. She's a very friendly and affectionate girl, enjoys life and loves a big fuss and attention, and is never happier than when she's playing with her partner-in-crime Daisy.

"Everyone here at Freshfields has fallen in love with these two adorable dogs. We can see how much they love each other, and we desperately want to find them a home where they can snuggle up together, just like they did in their previous home.

"Alice and Daisy are not adjusting to life in Kennels, as you might expect, after spending many years as beloved family pets in a loving home.

"Although we know it might be devastating for them, we are having to consider taking the heartbreaking step of having to split them up in order to find them a home.

"We so want to keep this inseparable pair together, and that's why we need YOU! Your readers can transform their future and write a happy ending for Alice and Daisy.

"This is their last chance to find a home together, as cherished family pets living their best lives. Please help us to make their dream come true.

"If you can find room in your heart and your home, consider giving Alice and Daisy the chance of joy and love. You will get so much back from these happy, beautiful dogs and they may just change your life!"

The Blue Peter presenters filming at Martin Mere Wetland Centre.

Blue Peter films at Martin Mere

WWT Martin Mere Wetland Centre welcomed some special guests this past week – Richie, Adam and Mwaka from one of BBC's flagship children's TV programmes - Blue Peter.

The Blue Peter studio is getting renovated, which gave them a perfect excuse to do an episode at an external location and where better than Martin Mere!

The episode features how wetlands store carbon, an otter feed, the shelduck ringing project and making bird feeders out of a carton and half an orange!

Marketing manager Victoria Fellowes said: "Blue Peter attracts one million young viewers three times a week and this has been the perfect opportunity to engage with children about the importance of wetlands and their species, on a programme they know and love."

"It's great that we have been able to showcase the centre on Blue Peter, especially with May Half Term starting this week. Thank you to all the crew that came along, and we hope you will enjoy watching the episode, spotting your favourite places at Martin Mere."

The BBC cameras at Martin Mere

The episode will be aired on Thursday, May 27 at 5pm on CBBC.

MP urges government to do more to help sufferers of dementia

By Henry James

WEST LANCS MP Rosie Cooper has backed a national campaign that is calling on the government to do more to help those affected by dementia.

Following Dementia Action Week, which ran until May 23, Ms Cooper has backed chiefs at the Alzheimer's Society in asking the Government to #CuretheCareSystem.

It's been a devastating year for people affected by dementia.

Right now, in West Lancashire and across the UK, nearly a million families are struggling to take care of their loved ones with the dignity and support they deserve.

Campaigners say that decades of under-funding have led to a system that is difficult to access, costly, inadequate and unfair. The coronavirus pandemic has exposed these problems like never before.

More than 35,000 people with dementia have died of Covid-19 – around one in four of all UK deaths – making those with the condition the worst hit by the pandemic. Furthermore, many people living with dementia have experienced a significant deterioration in their condition due, in large part, to interrupted health and social care.

The MP said: "I'm proud to support Dementia Action Week and Alzheimer's Society's calls for the government to announce its plans and commitments for social care reform as a matter of urgency. "NHS care is provided according to need and is free at the point of use.

"As a matter of fairness, dementia care must be delivered on the same principle.

West Lancs MP Rosie Cooper

"Many of my West Lancashire constituents are affected by dementia and they deserve to be able to access the person-centred care and support they need to live well. That's why we need to cure the care system now, while continuing research to find the cure for dementia."

An Alzheimer's Society spokesperson added: "Dementia does not just impact on the person diagnosed. It claims more than one life as families battle for the right care for themselves and their loved ones.

"Our findings paint a bleak picture. Family carers are exhausted, with more than 40% putting in more than 100 caring hours per week.

"People with dementia and their loved ones have told us they simply aren't getting the care and support they need. Sadly, too many family carers reach a point of crisis before receiving help."

Chiefs at the Alzheimer's Society are calling on its supporters to help cure the care system by urging the government to reform social care now.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

DRAPER VICTOR 'VIC'

Sue, Ian, Sara and family would like to thank everyone for their beautiful words, support and their continued support after the loss of a wonderful Husband, Dad and Grandpop.

A special thanks to everyone who donated to Vic's chosen charities in lieu of flowers. He would be thrilled at raising such a huge amount.

A big thank you to Howard's Funeral Directors, especially Derek for his help and knowledge and for guiding us through this difficult journey.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

EDMONDSON OLIVE

Anne, Harry and Janet would like to thank all their families, friends and neighbours for their support at this sad time.

Heartfelt thanks to the team at Sutton Grange Care Home for taking good care of mum over the past year, and to Fr. Mark and the Mothers' Union at Tarleton Holy Trinity.

Thanks also to Neal Buckley, Tarleton Funeral Home, for professional and caring arrangements.

MEADOWS BARBARA

Alan and Family would like to express their sincere thanks to all relatives, friends and neighbours for all the sympathy cards, messages of condolence and donations for Lancashire Wildlife Trust received during their recent sad loss of Barbara.

Thanks also to Carol Edwards for the beautiful funeral service given, and to Anabel Hunter of MLS Funeral Directors for her care and professional guidance

JOHNSON FRED

Margaret, Cathy and Linda would like to express their heartfelt thanks for the many cards and messages of condolences, flowers and donations.

Special thanks to all those who cared for Fred over the years: Southport & Ormskirk MDU, the District Nursing Team and Queenscourt Hospice.

Sincere gratitude to all involved in the funeral arrangements: Fr. Mark Soady, Rev. Stephen Foster, The Window Box and Neal Buckley Funerals

'PAULY' BROTHER PAUL WAYNE GALLEY

30th April 2021
Aged 47 years

NEVER FORGOTTEN

You'll never be forgotten
That simply cannot be.As long as I am living
I'll carry you with me.
Safely tucked within my heart
Your light will always shine;
A glowing ember
never stilled,
Throughout the end of time.No matter what the future brings,
Or what may lay ahead,
I know that you will walk with me
Along the path I tread.
So rest my brother, be at peaceAnd let your soul fly free.
One day I'll join your glorious flight
For all eternityBroken-hearted Sister
Nicky
& Brother-in-law Andy

GALLEY PAUL

30th April 2021
Aged 47 yearsIn loving memory of a special SONIt's sometimes hard to know why some things happen as they do,
So much joy and happiness was centred around you.
It seems hard to comprehend that you're no longer
here but the happy memories will help to keep you near.
You're thought about with pride with each mention of your name
Death cannot change
a single thing the love will still remain.From devoted Dad,

How neat! Absolutely anyone can now hop behind the wheel!

EVER wondered what it'd be like to drive an Austin Seven? That's the question I was pondering the other day when I was presented with a line-up of old cars and asked which one I'd like to have a go in – but the neat innovation here is that absolutely anyone can hop behind the wheel.

In this case the Seven quickly morphed into a Hillman Imp because there was a substantial queue building up for the pre-war motoring pioneer, but I was more than happy to head back to the Sixties and revel in that car's joyously revvy Coventry Climax engine, light steering and agile handling.

Equally, I could have had a shot in a Triumph TR7, a Ford Capri, a Morris Minor or a Vauxhall Viva.

So can you, because it's the USP of a new classic car museum that opened its doors for the first time last weekend.

I make no apologies for the Great British Car Journey being nowhere near Sefton or West Lancashire – it is, in fact, in Ambergate, a stone's throw from the Peak District in Derbyshire – but if you're even vaguely interested in old cars I'd definitely recommend doing the two-hour drive to go and check it out.

Any attraction inspired by a bloke buying an Austin Maestro, which is exactly what inspired CEO and car nut Richard Usher to set up this stash of British classics, has got to be worth a punt.

If you're looking for Jaguar D-types and Bentley 3-litres than this isn't the meander through motoring history for you, but if you remember the North West's roads being packed with Vauxhall Chevettes and Ford Escorts than this is the nostalgia trip for you.

It's got plenty of both, and Austin Allegros, Morris Minors, Sunbeam Rapiers and Standard Vanguards chucked in for good measure.

There are 150 old cars at the museum's disposal, and around 30 of them are regularly doted on so that paying visitors can sign on the dotted line, get behind the wheel and go for a drive around the site's test track.

That, for me, is what makes the Great British Car Journey stand out, because it'll fire up the imagination of people who might not normally be interested in motoring. It's one thing seeing a Capri gathering dust behind the stanchions and velvet ropes, but another entirely to actually hear a Cologne V6 at full chat and to feel what it's actually like to sit low down behind a bonnet that seems to stretch out forever.

Our motors man has got behind the wheel of this 1971 Hillman Imp - and so can you!

Equally, even if you're well versed in 1970s or 1980s cars, you might not know what it's like to run around in something much older – hence my itching to get into the Austin Seven, because I've never driven one before.

Anything that gets people fired up about old cars has got to be a good thing, and I'm already looking forward to my next visit.

Maybe the queue for the Seven will have died down by then...

David Simister is the editor of Classic Car Weekly

Tiguan Allspace is updated with new safety technology

VOLKSWAGEN has updated its Tiguan Allspace with new tech to make it safer and easier to live with.

The long-wheelbase crossover is now being offered with LED headlights, a three-zone air conditioning system, clearer digital displays and a better sound system, and it'll be offered in three trim levels.

It'll be available to order here in the next few weeks, although VW hasn't confirmed UK prices yet.
